BOARD IS BUSY

BRIGADIER GENERAL BORREE HIGHLY COMPLIMENTS LOCAL WORKERS

All members of the Exemption Board and a large corps of assistants are exceedingly busy these days. Messrs. Muhleman and Jones of the Board are classifying the registrants from eighteen to nineteen and from 36 to 45 as fast as their Questionnaires come in.

Physical examinations of Class 1 men are going on. Forty were examined yesterday, unusually high class men, who made a splendid average.

Questionnaires are still being sent out to the men of what is termed the second class, viz: from 18 to 19 and from 36 to 45, and they are daily appearing at the Board headquarters to fill out their Questionnaires under the supervision of the Legal Advisory Board.

Chairman Lanterman is selecting men to be summoned for the draft which will be entrained during the five-day period from the 9th to the 14th of November.

The local Board has received a complimentary letter from Brigadier General J. J. Borree reading as follows:

"Gentlemen: Governor William D. Stephens has requested me to express to you his deep appreciation of the splendid manner in which you have continued your irksome task during the influenza epidemic. Although a large number of your force have been incapacitated and the examining physicians working night and day, you have by your efforts enabled California to answer the nation's call for 15,000 men by November 11th.

Your State owes you a debt of gratitude. The services you have rendered will add a bright page to California's history."

There will be another physical examination at the Exemption Board on Friday at two o'clock in the afternoon. Every man who is planning to enlist or who is awaiting induction papers and who has not been examined, should appear for examination, as it is necessary to take this examination before induction can be secured into any branch of the service.

Chairman Lanterman of the Exemption Board, reports that between the 11th and the 14th of November eight special trains will leave Los Angeles loaded with soldiers for Kelly Field and for Camp Lewis. Ninety-eight men will be sent from Glendale.

FERRY—A TRUE AMERICAN

Peter L. Ferry, of Glendale, who for a number of years has been a prominent contractor, doing street and road building on a large scale, is proving himself a real loyal red-blooded American during these times of war.

Until the opening of the war Mr. Ferry was giving employment to a large number of men, and was the owner of expensive machinery for road construction, as well as keeping at work many horses and mules. In the past year Mr. Ferry has done considerable contract work for the government and he has ranked high as a man able to handle big jobs. A few weeks ago while the Fourth Liberty Loan drive was on, Mr. Ferry subscribed for $10,000 of bonds, and previous to that he had done nobly in doing his share in buying Savings Stamps and bonds.

SPECIAL INDUCTIONS

John Leroy Drug, 409 Kenwood street.

Charles B. Guthrie, 627 East Windsor Road.

DEATH OF MATTIE J. ESHOM

Mrs. Mattie J. Eshom, wife of Jas. M. Eshom, died at her home, 312 E. Colorado street, this city, November 3, 1918, at the age of 56 years, following a stroke of apoplexy. She is the mother of Frank Eshom, now in France, and of Bert Eshom, of Jefferson City, Mo., who will arrive Thursday morning to attend the funeral services, which will be private and which will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pulliam Parlors in this city.

KILLED IN ACTION

SERGEANT JOHN SCHAEFFER'S DEATH RECORDED IN THE CASUALTY LIST

When John A. Schaeffer first opened his eyes to the light of day in Glendale, 22 years ago, the world was at peace. On September 26, according to word just received by his mother, Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, of Los Angeles, and his brother, Otto Schaeffer, 406 West Elk Ave., Glendale, he gave his life in battle in the mightiest struggle of history, for the freedom of the world.

John went to Camp Lewis with the first draft call in the summer of 1917 where he spent a year in training as a soldier. He was made a corporal at Camp Lewis and after reaching France with the 364th Infantry, Co. D. in July of this year, he was promoted to Sergeant.

Previous to his soldier life he was a salesman for three years in the employ of John Wakemore and Sons Company of Los Angeles.

Besides his mother and brother, already mentioned, he is survived by a brother and two sisters who live in Los Angeles.

CONGRESSIONAL VOTE

As we go to press it is impossible to say just who will be the winner in the Congressional race, as the returns are yet incomplete. Randall seems however, to be in the lead.

REPRESENTATIVE VOTE

John Robert White, Jr., candidate for Assembly, seems to be leading over Mr. Lindley. The returns are far from being complete.

ELECTION EXCITEMENT OVER

Do not know what the excitement will be since the election is over. Churches, schools and theaters closed and no other public meetings allowed to be held, makes things rather dull. The campaign incidents kept us all good-natured and gave cause for many mirthful sayings and merry laughs. Two years from now will come more campaign fun—real, good-natured fun.

HURRAH FOR PUMPKIN PIE!

Do you like good old-fashioned pumpkin pie? The kind you used to get at corn-husking time years ago in the middle west, or in the early days in California. Well, if you do, just go to Yager's Confectionery at 111 South Brand, Friday, as on that day the genuine article will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. No canned goods to be used in these pies A-number-one fresh ranch eggs, and pumpkins just picked from the vine will be the chief ingredients.

VITAL STATISTICS

Vital statistics compiled by City Clerk Sherer for the month of October show that there were ten births in Glendale during that period and thirty-one deaths, or an average of one a day. Seven deaths were from infuenza and eight from pneumonia.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Clyde Carmack, of Central avenue, celebrated his birthday with a little dinner party November 1st. He doesn't say which birthday it was and Mrs. Carmack, who planned the affair, made it a strictly Hooverized event. There was no beautiful frosted cake with gleaming candles, but instead, by way of concession there was a luscious pie of the sort he likes best. Covers were laid for all the members of the Carmack family, and for Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pollock of Arden avenue.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY VOTE INCOMPLETE

RETURNS INDICATE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA HAS RETURNED TWO DEMOCRATS AND ONE REPUBLICAN TO CONGRESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, November 6.—With returns from 280 precincts in the Ninth Congressional District incomplete, Congressman Randall has 16,668 votes for re-election and Montaville Flowers, his Republican opponent, 13,495. Flowers' supporters admitted their candidate was defeated.

LOS ANGELES, November 6.——Southern California has returned two Democrats and one Republican to Congress. The Democrats are Keltner and Randall, who had the Democratic indorsement, while Osborne was re-elected on the Republican ticket. Osborne had little opposition.

Returns on the Los Angeles County vote are as follows:

For Governor (616 complete precincts)—Stephens, 49,291; Bell, 23,819.

For Lieutenant Governor (533 complete precincts)—Young, 40,098; Snyder, 24,081.

From 388 complete precincts on amendments: Rominger Bill: Yes, 15,468; no, 24,570.

Usury Law: Yes, 24,793; no, 8,310.

REPUBLICANS TO CONTROL HOUSE AND SENATE

NEW YORK, November 6.—The Republican National Committee declared today the Republicans had gained 26 seats in the House and 7 in the Senate.

Incomplete returns today indicated that the Republicans would control the next House and Senate. In the Senate it appears the Republicans have gained eight seats and lost one. The Senate probably be composed of 50 Republicans and 46 Democrats, according to these returns.

In the House the Republicans apparently have gained 24 seats and lost 8. This would make the House 224 Republican with 200 Democrats. .

GOVERNOR STEPHENS THANKS SUPPORTERS

LOS ANGELES, November 6.—Following word from San Francisco that Theodore Bell had conceded his election, Governor Stephens today issued a statement thanking the people for their confidence and asking for their co-operation in the work of winning the war and solving the problems which will follow peace.

BONE DRY MEASURE

SAN FRANCISCO, November 6.—With the re-election of Governor Stephens conceded by Bell's supporters and other critical contests decided, interest in the California state election now centers on the Bone-Dry Prohibition Measure, which for a time this morning seemed certain of pahsing. At 11:30 o'clock, however, with 364 San Francisco precincts figured in, it stood 32,562 for the measure with 47,295 against it. While Southern California voted strong for prohibition, San Francisco rolled up a big vote against it. San Francisco's 364 precincts voted 22,290 against prohibition and only 7,153 for it. The Rominger Bill is certain of defeat. Totals at noon today showed 33,824 for it and 48,844 against.

The Single Tax and Dentist Law also appear to be defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 6.—Theodore Bell issued a statement today acknowledging his defeat for the governorship. He wired Governor Stephens his congratulations.

AMERICANS WITHIN 9 MILES OF SEDAN

CLEAR THE EAST BANK OF THE MEUSE AS FAR NOTH AS MILLY—ITALIANS GAIN HEAVILY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, November 6.—The Americans in the Meuse region have cleared the east bank of the river as far north as Milly, passing beyond Stonne, and are within nine miles of Sedan from the south.

The British have reached Avesnes-Bavay road, 4½ miles west of Maubeze.

The French renewed their attack this morning, advancing an additional three miles at several points. The Italians co-operating with the French, gained heavily. The French have practically isolated Rethel and Attigny by effecting a crossing of the Aisne.

GERMANY'S DELAY DANGEROUS TO HER

IF SHE DOES NOT SOON ASK FOCH FOR TERMS OF ARMISTICE THE CONDITIONS WILL BE MADE MORE SEVERE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, November 6.—It is expected Germany will indicate tomorrow whether she is going to ask General Foch for armistice terms. It is pointed out that she must act quickly or conditions will be made more severe.

AMSTERDAM, November 6.—Dispatches today said that a German delegation had left for the west front to negotiate an armistice.

JEWISH WORK

WELFARE BOARD HAS PLACE OF ITS OWN IN CAMP LIFE

The Jewish Welfare Board (to use their own words) is a "Win the War" organization that is helping the U. S. government to build up the morale of more than one hundred thousand Jewish men of the army and navy. It will receive $3,500,000 of the 170 millions to be raised during November in the United War Work Campaign.

This organization is doing valuable propaganda and educational work in various congested districts in Eastern cities, notably on the east side of New York City, where there is a great population of foreigners, most of whom do not speak the English language. Among these various peoples are a very large number of Jews of different nationalities, who come to this country eager to mingle with us and become merged into our nation, whose principles they have learned to revere, even before coming into this country.

The Jewish welfare board has men working among these foreigners Americanizing them and teaching them the underlying principles of our government. When the call came at the entrance of the United States into the war, great numbers of these new citizens volunteered their services to our country. They had been instructed in such a way that they knew what it was all about, and proved their loyalty to the United States. The value of the work of the Jewish welfare board was thus shown in a substantial way.

But the Jewish welfare board has done far more than this: it has sent many trained workers to camps, cantonments and naval stations to provide for the physical and spiritual needs of not only Jewish men, but all men in arms. It has erected in these camps, auditoriums, rest rooms, writing rooms, and libraries. It has provided classes in various subjects; has arranged concerts, shows, lectures, debates and patriotic celebrations, cooperating with the Y. M. C. A. and the K. of C. Its representatives have endeavored at all times to perform personal services for the boys. Of the camp workers, the Jewish welfar the camp workers, the J. W. B. (Jewish Welfare Board) has over two hundred, including rabbis, teachers, social workers, and professional and business men. These men have all been specially trained for their work in a training school, which deals with all problems they will be likely to meet.

In the towns of the land, the J. W. B. has established over 150 branch organizations. In these towns they have organized many community centers for soldiers and sailors, each containing all the features that characterize other such centers. Their work in the cities is conducted in much the same way as I outlined in my article on "the war camp community service. Indeed, the J. W. B. co-operates entirely with the W. C. C. S. in every possible way.

As to work overseas: a force of over one hundred men has been recruited for work "over there." Headquarters have been established in Paris. Moreover the war department has appointed eight army and navy chaplains, who are stationed overseas. Twenty-five others will soon go over.

The J. W. B. has a place of its own in camp life. It steps in where other agencies would be less effective, and it works harmoniously with all the other great welfare agencies. It vigorously opposes any attempt at segregation. It aims to help the Hebrew boys to adjust themselves to understand and sympathize with their Gentile brothers in arms, and to be, in turn, understood by them.

We at home who are tempted to oppose any combination of the seven agencies (which union has been urged by President Wilson and others in authority) should bear in mind the brotherly spirit which prevails in the army from the leaders down to the lowest privates. This is forcefully expressed in the message which Gen. Pershing sent the J. W. B. and which I quote below. We must put aside our own small prejudices, realizing that at this time they will do harm only to those boys who are over there fighting our battles for us, while we remain at home in safety.

These are Gen. Pershing's words: "The stirring message of greeting from the Jewish Welfare Board is much appreciated in the American Expeditionary Forces. The constant support and cordial assistance of our brothers of the Jewish faith, and the thought that all creeds are united under one banner gives courage to our arms and urges us on to victory."

MRS. CHARLES H. TOLL.

BIG TOMATO PACK

HINCKLEY-BEACH CANNERY DOUBLES ITS CAPACITY TO HANDLE GOVT. CONTRACT

The Hinckley-Beach Canning Company expects to finish its season's work this month. At present it is running full capacity and putting up a heavy pack of tomatoes. Its government contract of twenty carloads made it necessary to double the capacity of the plant which is now employing about 135 persons, of whom ninety are women. The plant uses $1000 worth of cans daily, which will give an idea of what is being turned out.

A. W. Beach of this city is largely interested in this enterprise which is providing such an excellent market for the products of San Fernando Valley and has contributed in no small degree to its success. Mr. Beach is a director and stockholder in the Bank of Glendale and is one of the substantial business men of this district.

DEATH OF LISTER SILVA

Lister Silva, who has been a resident of this city for about fifteen months, died this morning, November 6, 1918, at his home, 439 West Lexington drive, of influenza. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Silva, of 435 Burchette street, and leaves a wife, Juliet Silva, and a two-year-old son, John William, Jr. He was born in St. Louis, Mo., May 28, 1893, and has lived in California for twelve years. During his residence here he had identified himself with local interests and was a member of the Elk's Lodge drill team. His pallbearers will be selected from the team to act at the services which will be private and which will be conducted at his home by a Reader of the Christian Science Church, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Lister Silva was pronounced one of the finest young men in the Elk's order, and his death is felt to be a great loss to the local lodge. He was an excellent business man and a member of the Silva Fixture Company of Los Angeles, which deals in showcases and store furnishings.

IN PUP TENTS

ROBERT ABARTA TELLS HOW AMERICAN SOLDIERS SHELTER FROM HUN AVIATORS

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 26, 1918.

Dear Little Mother:

The sun came out of its hiding place this a. m. and I am feeling fine. We are on our way to relieve some of Dad's ancestors just at present. We are hiding from the Huns. We have to stay in our pup-tent so the Hun aviators can't see us; so far they have had no chance to look for us, as the American planes greatly outnumber them. The Yanks seem to have as many planes as there are jack rabbits in California. Our planes fly over the German lines and Fritz opens up with his anti-aircraft guns. I have to chuckle every time, for they miss us by a mile. We get very little exercise in these pup tents and the ground is very damp. I have a fairly good bed of leaves. I went to church Sunday night and was more than interested in this strange meeting surely enjoyed it very much. It made me think of dear old Glendale, although the meeting was held under some trees that we used to camouflage ourselves. Of course there were no lights and we were not allowed to sing but one song and that very softly. The chaplain preached a short sermon and we had the Lord's supper. Don't you think that was some church away off here in what was once No Man's land?

And mother, the awful destruction that meets our eyes on every side—nothing but crumbling walls of once lovely cities, and these poor French people, how poor and needy they are, no words can ever describe what my eyes see here. I am so glad you told me about the Salvation Army and their work here. That is the first I have heard about coffee and doughnuts. Gee what does a doughnut look like? Ha! ha! It is over a year since I last saw one. It seems like a joke to us fellows, but the Y. M. C. A. is doing a wonderful lot of work over here.

Now mother, please remember me to all my friends you meet, especially those in Glendale. Tell them how I am getting along. I have no time to write, but although I think of them. May God bless and keep you all until I return. Lovingly,

ROBERT.

A NEW POLICY

One of the tasks before the new Congress will probably be the formulation and adoption of a new shipping policy.

Government building and operation of ships as at present is admittedly to meet the war emergency.

Under our existing laws and rules of Shipping Board, operation of ships under the American flag will be much more costly than under any other flag where Japanese, Chinese, Lascars, Italians or Europeans are employed as part of the crews, using the more highly educated men, such as American seamen in the more important positions of navigating and operating the ships.

If these ships are to remain under the American flag and carry traffic in competition with those of other nations, some plan must be found to eliminate this difference in cost of operation in order that American owners may compete under international conditions.

It has been suggested that the government pay difference in cost of operation by chartering vessels to operating companies at rates which will enable them to meet competition. This would virtually be a subsidy and lead to endless political favorism. Other means would be to change our shipping laws. etc., making for more economical operation.

It is not necessary and no person proposes to lower the labor standards, either in food, wages or accommodations for the American seamen, but it is to help the American seamen to force regulations onto American ship owners which kill their American Merchant Marine in peace times and force American seamen to seek service under foreign flags.

The shipping question will undoubtedly become a national political issue. The war has been made the excuse by socialistically enclined politicians to fasten upon the nation the policy of government ownership which was not originally contemplated.

It will devolve on the new congress to review the whole subject and decide on a policy which accords with American ideas of individual initiative, as the future of private industry in America is at stake.

DAIRY COWS SLAUGHTERED

Auction sales at dairies where all the cows are sold are becoming of such frequent occurrence as to threaten the milk supply of Los Angeles county. At these sales a few of the best young milkers are bid in by other dairymen, while the rest go the butchers, whose wagons are always at hand. The economic conditions being such that it is more difficult to make money at dairying than in other more warlike occupations, too many dairymen are hastening to sell out. Economic conditions may change and next summer there may be an active demand for the milk cattle now being so hurriedly sacrificed. It is perfectly evident that it is to the interest of everyone to encourage dairymen to hold onto their cattle at this time.

There are many and diverse opinions as to what is the matter with the dairy business, but Farm Advisor Scribner, who is a close student of the subject in Los Angeles county, puts his finger on the following defects which he has noted to be quite common.

1. Tendency to buy all or most of feed.
2. Indiscriminate, rather than individual feeding.
3. Poor care of developing heifers.
4. Ignorance of quality and quantity of production of individual cows.
5. TTendency to let fodder lie in field until injured by the weather.

Taking up these in order it may be said first that the dairyman who buys his rough feed aside from a little grain and mill concentrates, is going at it the wrong way. He allows the middleman to crowd himself in between the land and the cow with all the multifarious charges for baling, drayage and insurance, that that scheming individual is able to think up. Rough feed should be raised on the same farm with the cow and pass by the shortest, most economic route from soil to manger.

Then, again, too many dairymen shovel out the same amount of feed for each cow, regardless of her production and needs. The real dairyman must know his cows individually and treat them accordingly.

In order to grow into a high grade milker the developing heifer must have care and good feeding. It will not do to turn them out to shift for themselves.. The higher grade the milk animal, the farther man has developed her away from nature and the more necessary that she be given special care by man. There is a lot of difference between a modern dairy and the range.

The cow which makes her owner a profit of a dollar when the price of dairy products and feed are both low will make a profit of two dollars when prices are high. By the same sign the cow which loses her owner a dollar with low prices, will lose two dollars with high prices. It is therefore evident that with prices as at present, it is vitally important for a dairyman to know which cows are losing him money and which are most profitable, in order that he may dispose of the one and raise the heifer calves from the other. Yet only a comparatively few dairymen have tested their cows, which is the only way this vital information may be had.

When green feed is cut for hay or to be cured in any way, it should be taken care of. It should be put under cover as soon as it is dry in order to retain flavor and odor. Because there is no rain in summer in California too many let their feed lie out in the sun and dew for months until it is bleached out and has more the odor of a trash pile than of new mown hay. To do their best cows must enjoy their feed and be encouraged to eat heartily.

It is possible that some requirements of the state and city dairy laws are an unnecessary handicap to the dairyman, but it is likely that the objectionable parts of these laws have been greatly exaggerated by a few who are restive and impatient under any control aimed at the protection of the public.

Of course it is very difficult to get and obtain good milkers in the face of the shipyard and other war work competition. The prices being paid are exhorbitant and many women are being employed as milkers in an effort to hold on until the times improve.

Mr. Scribner estimates that twenty-five per cent of the dairy cows have been slaughtered within the last year and a half. If this keeps on until there are no cows left to eat the alfalfa, may we not expect the price of alfalfa to come down?—L. A. County Farm Bureau Manthly.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING ASSOCIATIONS

Perhaps the greatest problem in California agriculture at present is the standardization and distribution of products to be marketed. The value of farmers' co-operative marketing associations as a means of shortening the route between the producer and the consumer, and as a factor towards the better development of rural community life, as a well established principle. This has been amply demonstrated by many successful farmers' organizations now in existance in California, among which may be mentioned the California Fruit Growers' Exchange and the California Associated Raisin Company, which by their successful operation have attracted world-wide attention.

Farmers' co-operative marketing associations are business concerns that depend for their success upon the plans and objects of the organization, the character and efficiency of the men elected to manage them, and upon the support given them by the farmers of the state. Membership in such an organization brings with it the usual hazard involved in even the soundest business ventures.

Knowing that the College of Agriculture of the University of California has always favored farmers' co-operative associations, the officials of newly formed organizations have from time to time asked that the institution enter the field to aid in inducing farmers to become members. But the College has refused to urge farmers to join any particular association because it believes this to be a responsibility which farmers must take for themselves, since it was their own money and their own crops that were invested therein. This does not at all lessen the strength of the belief of the College of Agriculture that farmers' co-operative marketing associations are essentially desirable.

While the College is unable to actively solicit farmers to become members of any particular organization, it has full sympathy with the co-operative movement and when requested to do so will gladly extend such advice and suggestion as it has available. It earnestly hopes that at all times the farmers of the state will lend their active interest to the various associations promoted under competent auspices and participate in those which their judgment approves. It urges the county farm bureaus to open their meetings to a full and free discussion of the various farmers' co-operative marketing organizations that may be in process of formation.

Attention is called to the fact that the State Marketing Commission of California and the Office of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, are available to give advice and direction to formers' co-operative movements in California.

BEASTS VERSUS CHILDREN

Man's inhumanity to man
Makes countless thousands mourn.

The tenderness with which a cow, a pig, a sheep, or any of the other animals that are man's income-bringing property, is treated nowadays by many, stands out in notable contrast with their callousness toward children. One often reads of a thousand dollars or more being spent on some experiment to make bovine life safer and more productive to the master. Lots of people would do this for a cow, a sheep, or a pig, who would not pay out ten cents to better the chances of a child.

Many "humanitarians" spend more labor, gray matter and money upon epizootics than upon human epidemics; devote more worry to bots, anthrax, hog cholera and chicken pip than to infantile paralysis and infant mortality.

It is only within the past few years that a children's bureau was added to the department of agriculture of this great union. Through all the decades, however, the utmost solitude has been shown toward sick pigs, sheep, horses, chickens and cattle.

Is not a beautiful baby, a human bud unfolding, worth a thousand grunting swine? Is not a child toddling about the house, wisping sunshine into the tired hearts of its father and mother more precious than a flock of sheep, or a herd of cattle?

The souls of our animal humanitarians need quickening. God bless the children and let's help him by doing our utmost to promote their welfare.

Let's all let some of the love and tenderness of Bobby Burns into our hearts.

INVESTIGATION NEEDED

Of the 3,000 Porto Ricans whose departure from San Juan to labor in the United States was described in the press of the country recently, it was stated that "many were without coats and hats, some without shoes or with shoes that scarcely covered their feet, and for many it is doubtful if they had more than a few cents." These men are to work for the Quartermaster's corps in the south. Some 1200 arrived at New Orleans a fortnight ago, and at once were set to helping build a twenty million dollar warehouse there. The authorities assured the local building council that they would be used only in unskilled posts, and would be paid 30 cents an hour. That Porto Ricans in rags should clamor for an opportunity to earn 30 cents an hour in a strange land—those rejected for physical reasons were deeply disappointed—is fresh evidence of a deplorable condition of affairs. The government does well to relieve overcrowding there and the lack of labor here at one stroke. Meanwhile, of the investigation into insular affairs which was to be conducted by a presidential commission we hear nothing.—Exchange.

WOMEN TO THE FRONT

Women of the Pacific Division have arisen to the present epidemic emergency in a manner which is beyond mere words of approbation. There is continued need of women's ministration and the Red Cross feels it can depend upon the daughters of the West to keep at the helm until the last vestige of the storm has disappeared. The Division Bureau of Nursing supplied every available nurse and aid at its command, then called on lay women to fill up the gaps in the army of helpers to care for the thousands of sufferers. Chapters in all afflicted districts have handled the situation in a splendid manner and the Red Cross has again lived up to its real ideal.

BEFORE METZ

CORPORAL ROGER BAKER ON FIGHTING FRONT NEAR THE GERMAN FRONTIER

Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Baker of Brand Boulevard, have had recent letters from their son, Corporal Roger Baker, announcing that he is now on the front. While he is not permitted to state just where he is, they gather from what he writes that the regiment he is with is in front of Metz, and he is probably now with the advance guard which is able to look over the German frontier. He writes that he is well and has been on the front line about two weeks; that they are doing a lot of fighting. Before that time he had been doing clerical work, but was transferred. He is fighting side by side with his old friend and neighbor, John Bennett, of Saugus.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker have been in considerable anxiety about their son-in-law, Warren West, who has been very ill of the "Flu" in San Francisco. Sunday they received a telegram he had passed the crisis and later messages have advised them that he is now on the mend.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The regular prayer meeting topic for this evening is "Jacob deceives his father." Gen. 27:18-29. Memory verse, "Speak ye the truth each one with his neighbor."

The present-day world needs to learn with increased emphasis the great lessons of sincerity. Paul said, "That ye may be sincere." It is possible that one may be sincerely wrong. There is an old saying, "Another good man gone wrong."

Out of the sea of life you may steer for what seems to be a harbor, by a way which you honestly believe to be right, but unless you change your course you will be wrecked on the rocks.

Sick in body, you may take the drug you thought would cure you, and because of it you may go speedily into eternity.

Troubled in mind, you may lay hold of what you think is truth, only to have it mock you when the day of testing comes.

Test the views you hold today. It is far better to condemn them now than to have them rise up against you in the future.

Have your views influenced others for good, and have they carried blessings to the unfortunate? Have they borne fruit worth the gathering? Have they made men brave and noble, and women true and good? Have they made life easier to live? Have they helped to comfort when nearing the end of life's journey?

Test your life by the cloudy as well as the clear skies.

Test them by night when no gleaming star of hope is seen.

If they fail, then better turn aside from the line you are pursuing and lay hold upon that which is in all ages the same, namely, The Truth as it is in Jesus Christ.

Be sincere! This can only be, as we follow the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. His name is Jesus.

GUARD FOR WOMEN WORKERS

Mary Sweeney and "Sunshine" Sweeney of Lexington, Ky., have a special guard of soldiers detailed to escort them each evening from a position near the front line trenches in France to a point beyond the reach of German shells, according to information received here.

Over in the sector where these women are Y. M. C. A. canteen workers, the military authorities think so much of their efforts in serving the boys that they ordered these precautions to be taken.

Four Y. M. C. A. workers were wounded recently while serving the doughboys hot chocolate and biscuits in this particular sector, so the authorities detailed the squad to escort the women workers to places of safety each evening. "We can't afford to lose these women." So it is that Mary and Sunshine have a military escort as a regular thing.

It is just this sort of real service that the Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus are doing at other points along the front. It is to maintain and extend this service that the United War Work Campaign will be held the week of November 11th.

SOLDIERS OF ITALY TO LEARN TO SPELL

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Oct. 5 (by mail).—Italy is taking advantage of the fact that she has all of her young sons mobilized and under her immediate control to lessen the percentage of illiteracy in Italy.

Previous to the war the large percentage of Italians who could not read and write was not so much due to the fact that Italy did not have sufficient educational facilities as to constitutional objection on a certain part of her population to being educated. This was especially the case with districts in the extreme southern portion of Italy.

With all of these people under arms and under military discipline now, Italy hopes before demobilization can take place to have them all at least capable of reading and writing.

One of the last steps to this end has been an order by the Italian government for 1,000,000 copy books and 100,000 spelling books. These will be placed in all of the recration rooms that have been set aside for the use of the soldiers, both at the front and in repose locations. Other assistance and inducements will also be offered to the soldiers to see that the copy books and spellers are utilized to the fullest extent.

Somebody's Dollars Will Do It— I Wonder if They'll Be Yours

By Bruce Barton

I WILL tell you what will happen some night this winter in France. Some night when its cold and dark. There will be a rustling through the front line trench, where our boys stand guard. And a heavy ladened Secretary will make his way along.

In his hands will be great steaming pots: in his pocket chocolate and cigarettes.

From one man to another he will go, passing a cup full of hot coffee to hands that tremble with the cold; bringing the comfort of a bit of sweet and a smoke.

Men will hail him cheerily, slapping him on the back; and when he has gone things will be a little easier in that trench because he has passed that way.

How much will it cost to make that trip, do you suppose? Counting the pittance that the Secretary is paid, and the cost of the chocolate and the cigarettes and all?

Five dollars? Twenty-five dollars? I do not know.

But whether it is five dollars or twenty-five, I'd like to think that it is my five or twenty-five—wouldn't you? That some night when it's cold and lonesome, my money and yours might send a Secretary out along that front line trench. Let's make up our minds that we are going to pay for a score of those trips. A score of the nights this winter shall be our nights —nights when the boys greet joyously the chocolate and cigarettes that our money provided; and are happier because our representative has passed.

United War Work Campaign For the Boys in the Service

SERVICE THAT WINS THE SOLDIER HEART

Fred Lockley, Y. M. C. A., Tells of the Gratitude of the Boys at the Front.

"One of the discoveries men are making over here," Fred Lockley, of the Y. M. C. A. and of Portland, Oregon, writes from London, "is that more pleasure can be had out of giving than getting. Many a man who has spent money freely in the old days to buy pleasure is finding that he gets more pleasure over here by the spending of one's self in the service of others.

"A few months ago I went out with a fellow Y. M. C. A. secretary to hunt up out-of-the-way detachments of troops. A stable guard here, a machine gun company there, a platoon somewhere else. We carried our goods in an automobile. We had plenty of writing paper and envelopes for free distribution, and chocolate, cookies, chewing tobacco and smoking tobacco, cigarettes, razor blades, tooth paste and things of that kind for sale. American war service workers were busy everywhere. We found Salvation Army lassies making doughnuts for the boys and K. of C. secretaries giving help. Books furnished by the American Library Association were to be seen on all sides.

"Hearing firing at a distance, we drove down the road and found a score or so of men at machine gun practice. The officer gave the men half an hour recess to buy goods.

"At another place we came in sight of a lieutenant drilling a platoon. I said to the lieutenant: 'How soon before you dismiss the company? We have Y. M. C. A. goods for sale.'

"He said: 'Right now. Sergeant, dismiss the company!'

"And ten seconds later the company was in line waiting to buy goods from our traveling 'Y.' Grateful is no name for it. The men can't do enough to show their gratitude."

Why You Should Give Twice What You Did Before

The government has fixed the sum needed for the care of the men in the service at $170,500,000.

Unless Americans give twice as much as ever before our soldiers, sailors and marines in 1919 may not enjoy their

- 3,600 recreation buildings
- 1,000 miles of movie films
- 100 stage stars
- 2,000 athletic directors
- 2,500 libraries supplying 3,000,000 books
- 85 hostess' houses
- 15,000 "Big Brother" secretaries
- Millions of dollars of home comforts

Give to maintain the morale that is winning the war now

MERCY MUNITIONS NEEDED IN TRENCHES

Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, Fighting Author, Makes Stirring Appeal for Y. W. C. A.

Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, who wrote "Carry On," says of the war work which the Y. W. C. A. is doing: "You at home cannot fight with your lives, but you can fight with your mercy. The Y. W. C. A. is offering you just this chance. It garrisons the women's support trenches, which lie behind the men's. It asks you to supply them with munitions of mercy that they may be passed on to us. We need such supplies badly. Give generously that we may the sooner defeat the Hun."

What Lieut. Dawson says of the Y. W. C. A. he might have said of all the national organizations which are coming together for the biggest financial campaign that organizations have ever headed. All the $170,500,000 to be raised by the seven great national organizations the week of November 11 will be used to garrison and supply the support trenches behind the lines. They are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board, American Library Association, War Camps Community Service and Salvation Army.

American girls in various uniforms mingle strangely with picturesque Brittany costumes in France. The American Y. W. C. A. has a hostess house in Brittany where the Signal Corps women live and a hut where the nurses spend their free time. Both these centers are fitted with many of the comforts and conveniences of home.

"At a tea given at the nurses' hut one Saturday afternoon," writes Miss Mabel Warner, of Salina, Kansas, Y. W. C. A. worker there, "there was an odd gathering—one admiral, a bishop, a Presbyterian minister, a Roman Catholic priest, a doctor, an ensign, one civilian and myself."

First Victory Boy's Work.

"Say, I'm wise to you, all right," a Western Union messenger boy whispered to one of the directors of the United War Work Campaign in the New York headquarters. The director's desk had only just been moved in and the work of the big drive had hardly begun.

"I'm onto your stunt," the boy went on as he swung a grimy fist over the desk; "you're goin' to give us fellows that ain't old enough to go to war a chance to earn an' give to back up a fighter an' help win the war. Listen; I'm in on this."

The crumpled $5 bill he dropped on the desk made him the first of "a million boys behind a million fighters" who are to be lined up as Victory Boys during the week of the drive.

There will be a division of Victory Girls, too, and every boy and every girl enrolled will have to earn every dollar he or she gives to the war work fund.

"What made you a multimillionaire?" "My wife." "Ah, her tactful help—" "Nothing like that. I was simply curious to know if there was any income she couldn't live beyond." —K. C.

MERCY REPLACES KULTUR

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 5.—The Duetsches Verein, or German Club of New York, is now the Lafayette House, where wounded American soldiers are being nursed and entertained while recuperating. The sombre walls of the sleeping rooms as they were under "German occupation" have given way to cheerful shades of yellow, cream and blue.

A canteen has been installed, and all through the large 6-story building women in white uniforms are engaged in attending to the wants of wounded men.

There are many places in New York where the wounded officer may go to recuperate, but until the conversion of the Deutsches Verein, none has been opened for the wounded men from the ranks. Practically all the work of running the convalescent home is done by volunteers, although several professional nurses are in attendance.
